We are writing to tell you about a recent incident that involved some of your personal information. We have no evidence that your personal information has been misused as a result of this incident. That said, we are providing you with information about what happened and what you can do.

What Happened? On January 23, 2025, we identified unusual activity on our computer network. We immediately took steps to investigate. A forensic investigation conducted by external experts determined that an unauthorized third party obtained certain files stored on our network. We retained a team to review the contents of the documents we believe may have been taken for sensitive personal information. That review was completed, and the results were provided to us, on May 2, 2025.

What Information Was Involved? After our review of the files that we believe may have been taken, at least one document included your <<b2b_text_2 (name, data elements)>>.

What We Are Doing. We have taken steps to reduce the risk of a future security incident, including further enhancing our existing security measures and increasing monitoring and hardening of our systems.

What You Can Do. You can find more information on steps to protect yourself against possible identity theft or fraud in the enclosed Additional Important Information page.

For More Information. For further information and assistance, please call \(866\) 461-0897 from 8:00a.m. – 5:30p.m. Central, Monday through Friday excluding major U.S. holidays.

Additional Important Information

As a precautionary measure, we recommend that you remain vigilant to protect against potential fraud and/or identity theft by, among other things, reviewing your account statements and monitoring credit reports closely for errors or irregularities. If you detect any suspicious activity on an account, you should promptly notify the financial institution or company with which the account is maintained. You should also promptly report any fraudulent activity or any suspected incidents of identity theft to proper law enforcement authorities, including the police and your state's attorney general, as well as the Federal Trade Commission ("FTC").

You may wish to review the tips provided by the FTC on fraud alerts, security/credit freezes and steps you can take to avoid identity theft. For more information and to contact the FTC, please visit www.ftc.gov/idtheft or call 1-877-ID-THEFT (1-877-438-4338). You may also contact the FTC at Federal Trade Commission, 600 Pennsylvania Avenue, NW, Washington, DC 20580.

Box 105281, Atlanta, GA 30348. You can print a copy of the request form at <https://www.annualcreditreport.com/manualRequestForm.action>.

Fraud Alerts: You may want to consider placing a fraud alert on your credit report. A fraud alert is free and will stay on your credit report for one (1) year. The alert informs creditors of possible fraudulent activity within your report and requests that the creditor contact you prior to establishing any new accounts in your name. To place a fraud alert on your credit report, contact any of the three national credit reporting agencies using the contact information listed above. Additional information is available at www.annualcreditreport.com.

Credit and Security Freezes: You may have the right to place a credit freeze, also known as a security freeze, on your credit file, so that no new credit can be opened in your name without the use of a PIN number that is issued to you when you initiate the freeze. A credit freeze is designed to prevent potential credit grantors from accessing your credit report without your consent. If you place a credit freeze, potential creditors and other third parties will not be able to get access to your credit report unless you temporarily lift the freeze. Therefore, using a credit freeze may delay your ability to obtain credit. Unlike a fraud alert, you must separately place a credit freeze on your credit file at each credit reporting company. Since the instructions for how to establish a credit freeze differ from state to state, please contact the three major credit reporting companies as specified below to find out more information:
