BY THE COMMISSION:

The Commission entered an order instituting an investigation on December 15, 1998, in this docket. That order opened an investigation and sought written comments on the following issues:

- (1) The specific characteristics of Internet calling and the unique costs associated with originating and terminating such traffic;
- (2) Whether and why calls placed to a local number of an Internet service provider should be treated differently from local calls placed to other numbers generally; and
- (3) What basis exists to support the contentions of network congestion peculiar to Internet services.

Interested parties were asked to submit comments on the issues raised therein by February 16, 1999, with reply comments being due on or before March 1, 1999. As a number of interested parties may not have had adequate notice to properly prepare comments, the Commission is of the opinion that the deadline for comments should be extended to March 15, 1999, with the reply comment deadline extended to April 1, 1999.

IT IS THEREFORE ORDERED by the Commission that the deadline for comments in this docket is hereby extended from February 16, 1999, until March 15, 1999.
