BY THE COMMISSION:

On April 15, 1999, an application was filed by Maxxis Communications, Inc. (Maxxis) of Tucker, Georgia, seeking authority for acquisition of certain assets of Colorado River Communications Corporation (CRC) of Las Vegas, Nevada. Notice of application was published in The Daily Record, Omaha, Nebraska, on April 19, 1999. No protests were filed; therefore, we process this application pursuant to the Commission's Rule of Modified Procedure.

O P I N I O N A N D F I N D I N G S

Maxxis, a Georgia corporation, received authority from the Commission to operate as a resale common carrier of telecommunications services in Nebraska on April 20, 1999, pursuant to Application No. C-2008. CRC is a Nevada corporation which received authority to operate as a resale common carrier of telecommunications services from the Commission on August 20, 1996, pursuant to Application No. C-1293.

On February 18, 1997, Maxxis and CRC entered into an agreement whereby Maxxis will obtain certain assets used to serve the subscriber base developed by Maxxis for CRC. These assets include customer accounts, rights under written or oral agreements, and customer lists. The agreement detailing these assets has been attached to the application and is labeled Exhibit A.

Under the terms of the agreement, Maxxis will assume responsibility for providing long distance telecommunications services to former CRC customers. These customers will continue to receive services under the terms and conditions that previously existed. There will be no interruption or diminution in the quality of services provided to these customers. Customers will receive timely notification of the transfer of assets.
