The parties submit that the public interest will be served by this transaction by strengthening the financial status of Reliant, therefore resulting in net benefit to Reliant's customers. The transaction will enhance Reliant's ability to offer a broad range of innovative products and services to customers. Therefore, according to Reliant, there is no potential harm to any public interest issues raised by the proposed transaction and there will be clear benefits to the public upon approval and closing of this transaction.

Based on the evidence, we find the application to be fair and reasonable and in the public interest. The application should be granted.
