Section 8-141, as amended, and the requirements of the Uniform Commercial Code, indicate that a bank must not only have a secured interest in any livestock upon which a loan is to be made, but also the bank must show the value of livestock securing the additional ten percent advancement in order to determine whether the market value of the livestock equals one hundred fifteen per cent of the face value of the note.

To assist in setting forth the information required, each bank shall establish an inspection and appraisal report similar to Form 8-141-02. Form 8-141-02 is an example and each bank may determine its own form and content. Provided however, the report shall contain the following minimum information:

- Date of inspection.
- Name, address, and signature of the borrower.
- Date and amount of original note secured by the livestock.
- Total obligation of borrower to the bank.
- Date of security agreement and financing statement.
- Inventory of the livestock by actual count.
- Value of livestock per head.
- Total value of livestock.
- Name, title, and signature of individual making the inspection.

The inspection is to be made within thirty days of the origination of the loan and additional inspections made at least annually thereafter, or more often as prescribed by the Department of Banking.
